And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

Kenneth Hertel, president of the Hamlin BCD, and I attended the Jones County Commissioner's Court meeting Monday when a delegation from Stamford appeared before the Court seeking some form of re-districting for the county.

It was a most agreeable session and it is hoped that by the end of the week a committee composed of the Commissioners and interested citizens will be appointed to come up with a plan that will be acceptable to the Court and the citizens as a whole.

As Judge Leon Thurman pointed out to those present, this will be a "heck of a big job." But it is one that must be done if Jones County is to make any progress toward meeting the needs of the people.

Judge Thurman told the commissioners and those present that the matter has been on the agenda for at least two years without anything being done. He told the commissioners that they have got to re-district and it appears that they have four choices:

One is to accept the plan that was presented by the Stamford delegation, name a committee to draw up a plan, draw up their own plan, or let the courts do it for them. Everyone seemed in agreement that the worse choice was to let the courts do it.

Based on current registration figures, the plan presented by Stamford would divide the precincts into near equal groups with Precinct 1 (Hamlin) having 1704 voters, Precinct 2 (Stamford) having 1840, Precinct 3 having 1720, and Precinct 4 having 1832. It was pointed out at the meeting that there was also a need to equalize the road mileage under any new plan.

As an indication of the need for some form of re-districting, the current precincts during the last election had a difference of 1964 voters between the largest and the smallest. This difference is greater than the second largest precinct in the county. Bill Moore's precinct, which includes Hamlin, had 1904 voters in it at the last election, Precinct 2 had the highest with 2618, Precinct 3 had 1175 and Precinct 4 had only 754.

One thing that was pointed out in the presentation by Clem Richards, who had worked up the rough draft that was presented to the court, was that this was being presented with the idea that people of Jones County need to reconcile any past differences and work on this together for the benefit of all the people.

This is important—it is one thing for us to be rivals in sports and other such matters but if the people of Jones County are to have any future then we must start working together. Our whole economic future might well depend on our working together rather than trying to go our own individual ways.

A county government that is responsive to the needs of its citizens could be a great asset in our future development. But this can only happen by the people of the county working together and all sharing equal in our representation.

Bob Miller, writing in The Hamilton Herald-News this past week, injected a little humor that is worth passing along:

"News of a baling wire shortage has spurred the Texas A&M Extension Service to suggest alternate ways of handling hay: things like using twine or converting to the stack method. The suggestions are welcome, but they miss the real importance of baling wire to America because it is used for so many things other than baling hay. The nation is in danger of falling apart if something isn't done to restore the supply of FITTING BAND UNIFORMS—Dwayne Weaver, drum major for the Hamlin High School band, tries on a coat for Tim Jones, band director, Monday when the band students were being fitted for uniforms. The band is finishing up the second week of band school this week as they prepare for the coming season.

RE-DRAW PRECINCT LINES—

Commissioners to Appoint Redistricting Committee

The Jones County Commissioner's court is expected to appoint a committee sometime this week to work on redrawing precinct lines. No vote was taken, but the commissioners informally accepted the idea of naming a committee.

The action came after a delegation from Stamford appeared before the commissioners with a rough draft of a redistricting proposal and a request that the project be undertaken.

Jones County Judge Leon Thurman said that he expected the commissioners to name the committee by Wednesday.

It appeared to be the consensus of the court that the committee would be composed of the four commissioners and an equal number of citizens. One citizen member of the committee is expected to be named from each precinct.

Clem Richards of Stamford represented the Stamford group and offered a proposed redistricting plan.

Under his plan, Precinct 1 would have 1,704 registered voters; Precinct 2, 1,840; Precinct 3, 1,720; and Precinct 4, 1,832. He said that during the last election the breakdowns showed that Precinct 1 (Hamlin) had 1,904 voters; Precinct 2 (Stamford) 2,618; Precinct 3 (Hawley) 1,175; and Precinct 4 (the Noodle-Horn area) 754.

During the discussion, no one disagreed with the idea that the current alignment violates one-man, one-vote court rulings of the past.

In opening his presentation, Richards said that the only way the smaller towns and communities can continue to exist is to work together and "do away with the animosity of the past." Richards urged that any past disagreements be swept under the rug and that people join together in making responsible government work on the local level.

Following Richards presentation, Judge Thurman said that he was not aware of any past animosities and reminded the commissioners that he has had redistricting on the court's agenda for about two years, but no action had been taken.

He told the commissioners that they had several choices in the matter: 1. accept the proposal as presented; 2. appoint a committee to come up with a plan; 3. draw their own plan; and 4. let some court draw up a redistricting plan.

Judge Thurman told the commissioners that this was a "heck of a big job, but you have got to do it." During the discussion, Judge Thurman announced that he would seek re-election to his office. He said that since he runs on a countywide basis, redistricting won't affect his status. Adding that it was a job for the commissioners and suggested it was time to face the issue.

Charles Stenholm and Roy Craig were the other Stamford residents who spoke in support of the redistricting proposal.

Attending the session from Hamlin were Kenneth Hertel, Hamlin BCD president, and Bob Craig.

PILOT PROGRAM—

Local School to Launch 'Right to Read' Program

Leaders in the field of reading education are in Hamlin this week to conduct in-service training sessions for elementary teachers and administrators.

The in-service period is being conducted to prepare the elementary staff for the "Right to Read" program which will be implemented this year.

Hamlin will be one of two schools to be nominated for the national "Right to Read" program, a pilot program to strengthen the reading curriculum in the classroom. Two schools in Region 14 are to be nominated from a field of 56 schools. The state's 20 regional service centers will each nominate two schools.

National statistics point out that the remedial reading teaching method is not reaching the needs of the majority of students. Students are still going through the educational system unable to read.

The pilot program will place emphasis on reading in the classroom rather than in laboratory conditions which are being used to aid a small percentage of students.

The program will involve all elementary teachers, under the principal's guidance, in an evaluation and diagnostic approach to reading.

Monday and Tuesday, Dr. Nick Silveroli, director of the reading center at Arizona State University, Tempe, Ariz., conducted sessions setting the pace and pattern for teachers.

Dr. Mary Wakefield assisted in discussion sessions and will conduct an evaluation and planning session with teachers today (Thursday). She is professor of elementary education at Sam Houston State University in Huntsville. Dr. Wakefield will serve as consultant to the Hamlin School district during the program.

Coordinating the in-service activities is Don Williams of Abilene, assistant director for planning, Education Service Center, Region 14. The regional center is support media center for film data processing and in-service training.

Friday, the teachers and their principal, Larry Butler, will continue the evaluation and planning of the program.

Evaluation and diagnosing will be the responsibility of each teacher in his or her classroom. In this manner, strengths and weaknesses are noted and teachers will be aware of what is necessary to improve the student's learning situation.

Mr. Williams pointed out that total commitment on the part of the staff is the key to the success of the program.

LEADERS IN READING PROGRAM HERE—Top reading education consultants were in Hamlin Monday and Tuesday to conduct in-service training sessions for Hamlin elementary teachers in preparation for the "Right to Read" program proposed in the local system this year. From left, are Don Williams of Abilene, Dr. Nick Silveroli of Tempe, Ariz., Dr. Mary Wakefield of Huntsville and Larry Butler, Elementary Principal who will be guiding the program.

Policy On Free Lunches Announced By School

Superintendent Bob Hawes has announced a free lunch policy for the Hamlin school children who are unable to pay for their lunches.

Local school officials have adopted a family size and income scale to assist them in determining eligibility. Families falling within the adopted scale or those suffering from unusual circumstances or hardships are urged to apply for free lunches for their children. They may do so by filling in the application forms that will be sent home to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school.

Applications may be submitted any time during the school year. The form itself is simple to complete. It requests information needed to determine economic need based on the income, number of persons in family and any unusual circumstances or hardships which affect the family's ability to pay for school lunches. The information provided on the application will be confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility.

Under the provisions of the policy the principals will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the local official he may make a request either orally or in writing for a hearing to appeal the decision.

Superintendent Hawes has been designated as the Hearing Official. Hearing procedures have been outlined in the policy.

The policy also provides that there will be no identification or discrimination against any student unable to pay for his lunch.

A complete copy of the policy will be on file in each school in the office of the principal, where it may be reviewed by any interested person.

Application forms for the 1973-74 school year may be obtained by the students at the time of enrollment in school.

Chief Wheat Offers Bike Riding Tips

With school beginning and all the new bicycles in town, a few tips on bicycle safety might help save a life or injury. Says Police Chief, Ed Wheat. All bicycle riders should remember that they are required to obey the rules and laws pertaining to bicycle riding.

A bicycle is just as dangerous as a motor vehicle and is classified as a vehicle in this state, says Wheat. Here are some safety rules for riders to follow:

1. OBSERVE TRAFFIC (Red Light) SIGNALS — They are the same as for pedestrians.

2. USE HAND SIGNALS — They are the same as they are for driving a car.

3. RIDE ON THE RIGHT — Don't weave in and out of traffic. Ride in same direction as traffic.

4. BE ALERT — Look for turning cars, opening car doors. Let cars and pedestrians have the right of way.

5. DON'T BE A CLOWN — When you are on the road don't act like you are part of a circus.

Chief Wheat asks that parents encourage their children in learning correct bicycle safety rules and regulations.

Horse Show Set Saturday

There will be an open horse show at the Anson fair ground arena on Aug. 18, in conjunction with the Jones County Fair. There will be an adult and a youth division. Horses do not have to be registered to enter in either the halter or the performance division.

Trophies will be awarded to the first place winners in both halter and performance classes, ribbons will be awarded through 6th place. Entries will be taken until the event starts at 9:00 a.m. for the show. In the youth events only, horses must show at halter to be eligible to enter the performance events.

Additional performance classes of open English pleasure and western riding have been added this year. Advance entries will be taken by John Deatherage, Anson, Texas.

We all thrill to a...

FAMILIAR TUNE

It is so soothing, comforting, and pleasing to listen to our favorite tunes when played by capable artists. These tunes can make our minds wander back to pleasant memories of days gone by, and also awake us to new joys. Each Sunday we have the opportunity to be thrilled by the preaching of God's word, and the story of God's great love for us. Attend church Sunday and enjoy worshipping God with others.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

A proposal to make the street in front of the elementary building one-way will be presented for consideration of the City Council at the next meeting, Mrs. Weaver said.

Also being requested of the Texas Highway Department are school crossing signs to mark the intersections. Mrs. Weaver said that Avenue E was chosen at West Lake Drive to offer the best route for children from both the primary school and elementary school.

The Hamlin Police Department is cooperating in the program.

School Board Hires Teachers

Meeting in regular session here Monday evening the Hamlin School Board accepted the resignations of two teachers and hired two others. The board accepted the resignation of Gus Young and James Lain and employed Rebecca Brown and Ronald Carter.

Mrs. Brown was hired to teach first grade and Carter will be instructor for the CVAE program. The system is seeking a high school math teacher to replace Young.

In routine business session the board approved the payment of bills and amended the 1972-73 budget to conform to expenditures.

In a discussion session the board heard Supt. Bob Hawes explain a number of new pieces of legislation that could effect school business. Among these were laws on kindergarten, operation of buses, liability and leave of absences.

NEWS FROM...

Sylvester

By MRS R M BABB

We have a lovely morning and only 2 in. of rain last week. The cotton is really growing.

Mr. Lea Dickerson told me that the Reeves family enjoyed a full weekend near Cisco recently with all the brothers and sisters there.

The Cox family enjoyed a reunion at Lake Brownwood with most of the family present.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Perkins of Lubbock enjoyed a visit with their grandmother, Carra Perkins while their mother and father were on vacation.

My last report on Mrs. Will Kelly who has spent several days in Stamford hospital is that she is better and will be home soon.

Bro. Neal Shepard and wife and Mrs. Milton Jennings, Jana and Jody ate lunch with the W. B. Browns on Sunday. Bro. Shepard had filled the pulpit of the Baptist Church.

Grace Brewer of Abilene was by the house the other morning and showed me a letter that her daughter, Mrs. Eula Hendricks had received from associate Dean of Academic Affairs Eugene H. Wissler of the Texas University College of Engineering; stating that her son Melvin Hendrick was on the Honor Roll. Everyone here remembers Melvin as the youngster that always had a frog or bug of some kind in his pocket. We are proud of him too.

Neinda Philosopher Comes Up With Scheme to Save On Presidential Houses

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One comes up with another one of his peculiar ideas this week, we guess you'd say.

Dear editor:

A lot has been in the news lately about money spent on Presidential homes away from Washington, not just the current Presidential houses but the last four or five.

As I understand it, a man's eagerness to get to the White House is matched, after he's been there a while, only by his eagerness to get away every chance he gets, so the government has to see that his escape home is just as secure as his White House home.

This naturally runs into money, if you want to call several million dollars money in these days of the $1.25 hamburger and the 50-cent tractor bolt I used to buy for a nickel, and in view of the fact all other Presidents in the years ahead will be expecting the same treatment I have hit on an idea to save money and solve the problem at the same time.

It's simple. Build a government-owned mobile home with all the equipment needed and let whoever's President have it pulled to whatever spot he wants to spend the next weekend at. This way he could have a Western White House, a Southern White House, a Northern, Eastern or whatever point on the compass he likes White House at whatever distance he feels the safest from Washington. When he retires, the mobile home is taken over by his successor, given another coat of white paint, and the problem of private Presidential homes would be solved from now on.

While we're on the subject of Presidents there's another problem that's been worrying me. It's the Presidential Library. Have you ever stopped to think that if this country holds together for the next 5000 years and every President has to have a library of his very own to hold his papers, there'll be a minimum of 625 such libraries scattered around the country, with some cities having 8 or 10 apiece? At a cost of at least 6 billion dollars and maybe 12 if the cost of living keeps going up?

I'm not suggesting we ought to store those documents in mobile homes, some cities have restrictions against locating those things too close to town, but it would be cheaper to build one huge pyramid in the center of the nation and stack all the papers and tapes and denials there.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.
